Effective February 1, 2000, real property improved with a single family residence, townhouse or condominium which has not previously been occupied by its owner or a vacant lot zoned for residential use located in a subdivision any part of which has been record platted within the preceding five years is considered Residential Real Property and is subject to the Residential Real Property Transfer Disclosure Ordinance (Section 29-1 of the Joliet Code of Ordinances). This ordinance requires the Seller of residential real property to provide certain disclosures to prospective buyers prior to entering into a sales contract and to provide proof of compliance with the ordinance by filing a completed and signed Residential Real Property Transfer Information and Disclosure Form with the City of Joliet at the time real estate transfer taxes are paid.
